Thorung Peak Climbing(6144m)

Tour Overview

Thorong or Thorung Peak standing at 6144 meters is the nicest snow mountain lies in Annapurna region, Nepal. This mountain is the shortest possibility to gain a 6000 m-peak while doing the famous trekking around Annapurna . This Climbing peak program starts after we start trekking from the lowland valley of Bensi sahar. Our trekking trail takes us through the Marsyangdi River, lowland farms, villages, forests, falls, hills and basins offering diverse range of flora and fauna and the most spectacular mountain scenery of Annapurna and Manaslu. The region is mostly inhabited by Gurung people practicing typical culture and traditions. Here you get an opportunity to experience the rich culture of these people and climb through the most demanding pass in the region.

We set our basecamp at 5200m with tents camping and facing the cold weather. Now passing the Thorung La pass we head up to the summit of the peak. The summit of this spectacular peak offers the most magnificent mountain view of the Nilgiri peak, Tilicho peak, Dhaulagiri range, Annapurna range along with the beautiful scenery of Mustang region and beautiful Kali Gandaki valley. Climbing Thorong peak spectacular but demanding trekking peak one should need a permit and skilled climbing guide. It is true that the earlier knowledge of climbing is necessary to climbing this peak. Our Company Asian Expedition is dedicated to success your dreamed climbing peak in Nepal.
